CANADIAN AND JAPANESE BUSINESS LEADERS' DISCUSSIONS IN TOKYO ON GLOBAL ECONOMIC ISSUES ARE JOINED BY PRIME MINISTER MULRONEY

Senior Canadian and Japanese business leaders met in Tokyo today at Canada's new Embassy Chancery and discussed a number of global economic issues of mutual concern. (See attached list of participants).

Prime Minister Brian Mulroney, who is visiting Japan this week, joined the Canadian and Japanese group at a luncheon hosted by Canadian Ambassador to Japan, James Taylor.

High on the list of items discussed among the Canadian and Japanese private sector representatives, were the monetary and fiscal policies of the G-7 countries, and the current state of global trade relations including the prospects for a successful conclusion to the Uruguay Round.

The Business Council delegation tabled a brief statement at the outset of the discussions with Japanese counterparts. The statement is entitled The Global Economic Agenda – A Canadian Business Perspective on the Occasion of a Meeting between Canadian and Japanese Business Leaders.
